Phase 2: Requirement Analysis Phase

The requirement is to import spreadsheet data into ServiceNow and map the source fields to the corresponding fields in a target table. The spreadsheet should contain the required data in a structured format, and a Transform Map should define how each source field is transferred to the target field. The import process should also support validation and transformation of data where required.