Phase 3: Project Design Phase

The project design uses ServiceNow Import Sets and Transform Maps. The spreadsheet data is first loaded into an Import Set table. A Transform Map is then created to define the relationship between the imported source fields and the fields in the target table. Field Maps are configured for the required fields so that the imported information is placed in the correct target fields.