Phase 7: Project Documentation Phase

The project documentation records the purpose, import process, Transform Map configuration, field mappings, and verification steps. It documents how spreadsheet data is loaded into an Import Set table and transformed into the required target table. The documentation also records the expected result of the import and the checks performed after transformation.